Spectacular Decorations, Wonderful Gifts

Della Robbia Christmas wreaths make spectacular holiday decorations for home and office and wonderful gifts for family and friends. Colorful, fragrant and fresh, they feature lush noble fir boughs, succulent apples and lemons and a rich

Annual Wreath Campaign Provides Work Experience for Disadvantaged Teens

For all their natural beauty and traditional holiday charm, Della Robbia wreaths are much more than just Christmas decorations. They represent growth, recovery and hope to more than 600 vulnerable boys and girls who each year receive shelter, guidance, education and support from Boys Republic and Girls Republic.

When you buy a Della Robbia wreath or give one to a friend or associate, you also give troubled teens an opportunity to learn important work-related attitudes and skills. Della Robbias are produced through a work experience program that teaches disadvantaged students the value of honest labor. From gathering, sorting and preparing seed pods to shipping the finished Della Robbia, students experience the stress of adult responsibility.

Anatomy of a Della Robbia

PINE CONES

Cones from a variety of pine and fir trees are used in every wreath, some gathered at altitudes of up to 10,000 feet in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

COTTON BURR

These delicate star-shaped pods are gleaned from the fields of the San Joaquin Valley after the cotton crop has been picked.

EVERGREEN BOUGHS

Supple noble fir evergreens are harvested fresh in the forests Northern California and Oregon. No trees are harmed in the pruning process.

LIQUIDAMBAR

A member of the witch hazel family, liquidambar trees grow in great profusion throughout Southern California. These spiny seed casings are gathered early in the year.

PLUMOSUM

Named for their feather-like plumes, these novel cones are native to Israel and South Africa.

WINESAP APPLES & FRESH LEMONS

Hand-rubbed in alcohol and then lacquered to keep them colorful and plump.

LOTUS POD

This distinctive water lily seed casing with many of the seeds still intact is gathered in the fall from local lakes and ponds.

BOTTLE TREE POD

This pod is from a tree native to Australia and now grows in San Fernando Valley, California.

Note: The number, selection and placement of cones and seedpods upon the Della Robbia Wreath may vary each year, depending upon the availability of these natural materials.

Girls Republic Completes Second Decade of Service to At-Risk Young Women

*B*obette Churchward's photo hangs just inside the front door of this bungalow-style residence and most of the 250 young women who have lived here know that Bobette and the Pasadena Auxiliary had something to do with the founding of Girls Republic.

"The girls from Monrovia Day Treatment were helping us at the Thrift Store," Louise Laub, former President of the Pasadena Auxiliary, reminisced, "and Bobette said one day, 'Wouldn't it be nice to have a girls' residence.'"

The initial inspiration and the financial means for a century's worth of innovation at Boys Republic has largely come from the agency's volunteer groups. Girls Republic was no exception.

Bobette died unexpectedly in 1988, leaving her home to Boys Republic. It was her desire that the proceeds be used to start a program for Girls.

The agency located a residence in a quiet neighborhood, large enough for eight girls, and, with the assistance of the Pasadena Auxiliary's volunteer members, opened Girls Republic in 1990.

COLLABORATION: Girls Republic students attend high school at Monrovia Day Treatment where the curriculum, like this science project, often adopts a team approach to learning — a good fit for the Boys and Girls Republic group model.

In which we invite a member of our staff to share her perspective: What's it like working with the young women of Girls Republic?

Isabelle's Story by Ellen and Isabelle

Ellen Strickland

My name is Ellen Strickland and I started working at Boys Republic in 2003 on the main campus and had the opportunity to work in two different cottages before coming to Girls Republic in 2007. I wanted to share a little about Girls Republic and a few of the things I love the most. Due to the smaller number of students (8 compared to about 25), there is a lot more freedom to do a variety of activities, build closer relationships, and see the girls progress as they deal with very heavy issues.

One of my favorite aspects of the job is all of the new things we are able to expose the students to. Many have never seen the ocean or snow, been ice skating, bowling or out to a restaurant, or opened a Christmas present...and the list goes on. This past summer we were able to take the girls camping. We went to Green Valley Falls Campground outside of Julian, CA and stayed in tents, roasted marshmallows and told ghost stories around a campfire. The girls also went swimming in rock pools and sliding down waterfalls to mention a few things. This was a brand new experience for each of our students and one that will be remembered by staff and students alike. It felt more like family spending time together than a job. It is something that I hope to repeat annually for many years to come.

Another aspect of the job that I love is being able to build close relationships and be a part of the girl's lives as they work through many serious issues such as substance abuse, molestation, and family violence. These young ladies are able to process and work through issues that most adults never will. I am constantly amazed at the strength each one possesses to face these issues and overcome them. One of these students, Isabelle, will share her story with you:

Hello, my name is Isabelle and I am 15 years old. I've been at Girls Republic for about a year. Girls Republic has helped me come a long way since I've been here. GR has been there for me through my hardest times. They helped me overcome my gang issues, drug addictions, and most importantly the situation with my family. Without the support of my peers and staff I don't think that I would had made it this far.

As a little girl I had a rough childhood. I was exposed to drugs and gangs by the age of 8. I saw myself slowly becoming a part of that lifestyle. That was all I knew and to me that was normal. Before I hit the age of 9 I was addicted to inhalants such as hairspray, spray paint, and Dust off. Within the next coming years I also got involved with Marijuana, Alcohol, and Crystal Meth. On top of all of this I started hanging around with gang members and made some poor decisions. I thought that using drugs and running the streets would make my problems go away, but little did I know that my problems would get worse.

Many of those choices that I made led to me losing my brother. His name was Gabriel and he passed when he was only 15 years old. What happened to my brother is the reason why I came to Girls Republic. On October 22 of 2008 I was in possession of stolen hand guns. That night I was under the influence and wasn't thinking straight. My brother and I were in my living room together when I decided to try to unload a gun. Within seconds I heard the gun go off and that's when I realized that my brother was hit by the bullet. He was put on life support for a day but didn't make it. I was charged with involuntary manslaughter, possession of stolen property, and neglectful discharge of a firearm. It took me a while to realize that I had accidentally shot my brother, the closest person that I had in my life.

When this happened my family held it against me. My mom and younger sisters blamed me and my older brothers beat me. They weren't making things easier for me, my guilt just worsened. I made it hard for myself because I didn't know how to deal with it and neither did my family. I wish that they could've helped me but they were too hurt themselves. I was in desperate need of help so my probation officer thought that it would be best to remove me from my home and put me in a place where I would get the most help.

When I came to Girls Republic I knew that things were going to change in my life but I didn't expect such a drastic change. Group was what POSITIVE PEER INFLUENCE: Students, in the Boys and Girls Republic group model, are encouraged to guide each other toward positive, conventional lifestyles. It's a process that can unfold only within an atmosphere of open, trusting relationships. Activities like this 2009 camping trip are ideal for fostering trust among teens from different backgrounds.

Boys Republic Welcomes New Volunteer Leadership

The primary governing body of Boys Republic is a Board of Directors which, by tradition, is made up entirely of volunteer citizens from communities served by the agency. The Board is self-perpetuating, electing its members from the ranks of Southern California's leaders in business, professional and civic life. Three recently elected Directors bring the panel's membership to eighteen members.

David Brahms

Brigadier General David M. Brahms (Ret.) served in the Marine Corps from 1963-1988. Since retirement from military service, he has been in private practice in Carlsbad, California as a court martial lawyer.

Mr. Brahms graduated from Harvard University in 1959 and from Harvard Law School in 1962. In 1977, he was awarded a Master of Laws from George Washington University. He advanced to brigadier general in 1985 and assumed duty as Director, Judge Advocate Division, Headquarters Marine Corps, Washington, D.C.

Mella Brienza

Mella Brienza brings to Boys Republic her extensive background in business and in volunteer organizing. She developed a career in fashion while studying at State University of New York. She has owned and managed several retail businesses.

Ms. Brienza is a past district president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. She currently volunteers as president of the Pasadena Auxiliary of Boys Republic, focussing her efforts on increasing the Auxiliary's membership.

Doug LaBelle

Doug LaBelle comes to Boys Republic's Board of Directors after a distinguished, 44-year career in municipal government. Now retired, Mr. LaBelle spent the last 13 years as City Manager of Chino Hills.

Under his adept guidance and management, Chino Hills grew from 50,000 to 80,000 residents and the city's sales tax revenue grew more than 350 percent.

Mr. LaBelle earned a Bachelor's degree from California State University at Fullerton. He and his wife, Bonnie, live in Costa Mesa.

Life in a Pumpkin Patch: How Problems Become Learning Opportunities

A marauding flock of crows plundered meticulously-placed rows of tender pumpkin shoots at Boys Republic's student garden. The only witness — a solitary scarecrow with basketball head, tattered straw hat and soiled robes — stood helplessly immobile as the invaders continued their destructive mischief.

What pests! Imagine their frustration when students enrolled in Boys Republic's Landscaping Class returned to the pumpkin patch to discover that all of their hard work — soil testing, rototilling, planting, weeding, irrigation, and building a scarecrow — would be for naught. The scarecrow had failed and the promised pumpkins would never grow!

Landscaping Class instructor Derek Scott was quick to realize that what he had here was a "teachable moment." Readers of his book, Life Lessons from The Boys Pumpkin Patch, will discover how "Mr. D" turned the crow problem and a multitude of other challenges into learning opportunities that build character in young workers. The book, available when you purchase a Box-O-Pumpkins (please see Box-O-Pumpkins, next page), is a chronicle of boy and pumpkin growth on Boys Republic's school and farm in Chino Hills, California.

Boys Republic's Landscaping Class operates, and is primarily funded, under the Baldy View Regional Occupational Program (ROP). The course leads to a certificate in Landscaping and is offered to Boys Republic students to provide them work experience. Proceeds from the sale of pumpkins help to pay for the cost of class materials. Wherever possible, Boys Republic's programs are designed so that disadvantaged students may have the experience of contributing to their own education and care.

helped me the most throughout my program. I strongly believe that group is a huge part of this program. Group isn't the only thing that has helped me. It was also helpful to be surrounded by a positive environment and being able to experience new things. I've done things here that I had never seen myself doing such as having a Christmas, a Thanksgiving, going to a restaurant, going to NASCAR races, seeing the snow, and camping. Now I see that there's more in life besides what little I knew.

I consider myself very lucky to have come to Girls Republic. Not many people get the opportunity to have a second chance. I'm not the only one that benefited from this program but so did my family. We learned how to deal with the pain of losing my brother and how to handle things differently. It brought us together and made us stronger. This program doesn't only go out of their way to help us but our family as well. Thanks to my staff and peers now I have goals for myself. I no longer see myself as a gang member or drug addict a couple of years from now. I see a brighter future for myself and I know I can make it. The greatest thing about this program is that they'll never forget about you. They will keep helping you even when you're out of the program.

As you read Isabelle's story I hope you are able to see a little bit of the reason I love this job so much. She summarized things much better than I ever could. She truly is an amazing young woman and her story is one of many that I feel blessed to be a part of.

Editor's note: For the purpose of this publication, Isabelle's name and that of her brother have been changed to protect her privacy.

Donor Support in Calendar Year 2009

Since its founding in 1907, Boys Republic has served as a point of contact between the charitable instincts of thousands of open-hearted individuals, families and organizations and the needs of some of society's most troubled youths. The year 2009 was no different. As they have for more than a century, hundreds of special people became special friends of the troubled young men and young women in program through gifts of their time, their talents, their financial support and of a wide assortment of useful commodities and merchandise. This roster of charitable support is published in tribute to them all.

We extend very special thanks to the thousands of friends who last year purchased Della Robbia Christmas wreaths. These purchases provided after-school jobs to more than 600 troubled boys and girls during the year and helped them gain the sense of self-responsibility so important to their long-term recovery.
